Daniel McClung Camden

Dedication

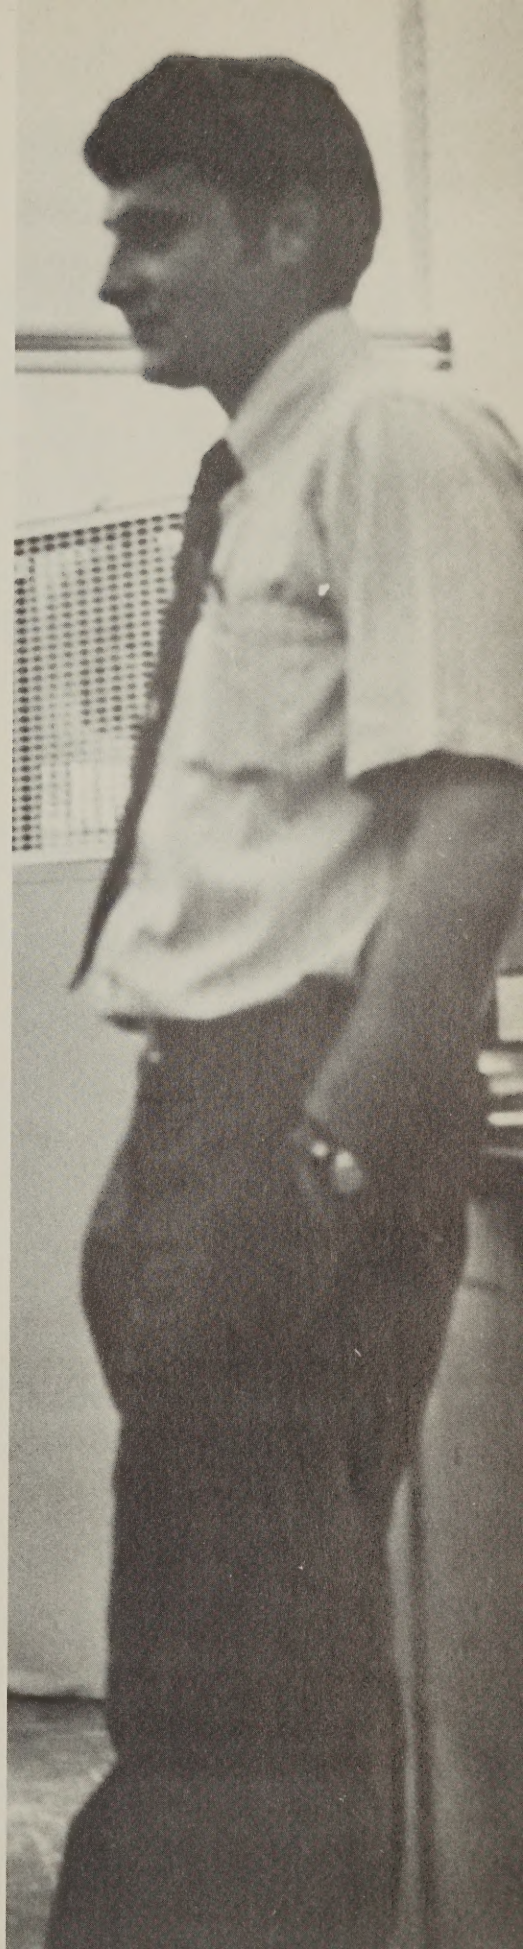

Mr. Camden even smiles on report card day!

Mr. "C" a celebrity?!?!

We, the 1971 Senior Class of Parry McCluer High School present in dedication the 1971 Parrimac to one of the greatest men and friends who has ever walked within these halls. He is a man who has so patiently helped many students to solve a seemingly impossible problem or at one time or another has shared his advice with someone and helped him to make the right decision in a time of distress. This man is highly respected and loved by the students at Parry McCluer. This is why we dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Daniel M. Camden.

... but we do alot of "things"!!

Students,

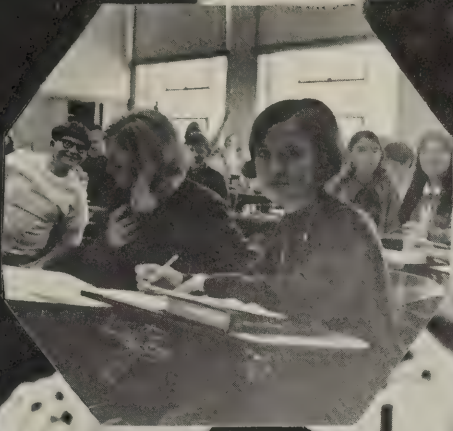

What you see above is the 1971 Parrimac Staff: Sue, "Bev", Betty, Susan, Patty, Marsha, Karen, "Dick", Jimmy, "Ferbie-T", "Snitter", "Joy", and "Tess", who are all under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. Denise Hawkins, a memory in our time.

These kids have really worked hard to raise money, meet deadlines, and bring up new ideas to make this a bigger and better yearbook. My greatest hope is that in years to come you will look back through these pages and remember how those " 'ol high school days" were the best days you ever lived.

I personally would like to thank and commend highly the Staff for the fine and one fabulous job they did. Also, to Mrs. Hawkins and Mr. Earl T. Edwards.

Sincerely,
Susan L. Byers

CLASS SONG:

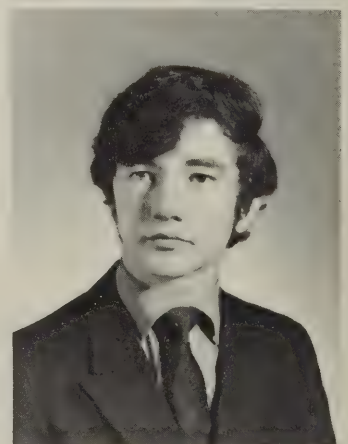

"AQUARIUS"

When the moon is in the seventh house,
 and Jupiter aligns with Mars,
 Then peace will guide the planets,
 And love will steer the stars;
 This is the dawning of the age of Aquarius,
 The age of Aquarius. Aquarius — Aquarius,
 Harmony and understanding,
 Sympathy and trust abounding.
 No more falsehoods or derisions,
 Golden living dreams of visions,
 Mystic crystal revelation,
 And the mind's true liberation.
 Aquarius, Aquarius, Aquarius, Aquarius.
 When the moon is in the seventh house,
 and Jupiter aligns with Mars,
 Then peace will guide the planets,
 And love will steer the stars;
 This is the dawning of the age of Aquarius,
 The age of Aquarius.
 Aquarius, Aquarius, Aquarius, Aquarius,
 Aquarius.

William Lewis Woodward

Kenneth Dale Wright

Like the last rose of summer,
you have been picked
from our garden
By a hand more powerful than yourself,
Leaving only your thorns to embed themselves forever
into our hearts,
And your leaves to swirl always throughout the memories of our minds.
But your petals, pink, fragile,
and beautiful,
Have been scattered upon the wind,
And your stem, strong, unbending,
and unmindful of burdens,
Has been replanted in another's garden . . .
To grow . . .
Eternally.

This Is The Prom . . .

May 14, 1970 began a session of so-called hard work, which in the hearts of this year's seniors was really fun and play. Nothing was serious about it until 8:00 p.m., May 16, when THE beautiful "Shenandoah" was revealed to the students of P.M.H.S. No word can really describe that work of art; that masterpiece.

"Shenandoah" is one Prom that will never leave the minds or cease to amaze those who were so fortunate to attend; especially those of the Class of '71!!

"The Season"

Christmas -- what is it, anyway?
It brings snow, sometimes, or
It can be stubborn and Decide that it would rather a
Ray of sunlight surround its spirit.

Christmas reveals pretty queens
And the happy laughter of Children watching a noisy
Band march down the street
Playing "Jingle Bells".

In any sense, one feeling
At Christmastime is mutual
All around the world.
Surely, you have felt love, joy,
and happiness.

Faculty

The Administration and Guidance Work

James Bradford, Superintendent, is often accused of thinking in dollar signs. But his goal is to make the most out of the budget and to raise the standards of our school.

Carroll Shotwell, Assistant Principal, worked with Mr. Hatcher to make our school system effective.

Berchard Hatcher, Principal, was always willing to listen to the students and to help them with their problems.

Mr. Bradford and Mr. McCown combined their efforts to make 1970-'71 a successful year.

For A Better Way

One of our guidance counselors, Mrs. Betty Muirhead, was an impetus to fulfilling allotted capacities. She was an indispensable friend to all the students.

A school not only needs a fine teaching staff but also a good board of administrators. The School Board was the force that made Parry McCluer a progressive organization. From left to

In 1971 Parry McCluer was a world within a world. The world outside was torn by misunderstanding. Our world sheltered by brick was preparing us to face what the "long and winding road" leads us to.

We were guided on our way by the skillful hands of the administration. Mr. Bradford, the Superintendent, and the School Board served the educational needs of the community. They endeavored to bring progress and success to the Buena Vista Schools.

Within the educational system existed the Office. Inside was all you needed to solve any problems. Mr. Hatcher and Mr. Shotwell were there to organize the school functions. Mrs. Muirhead and Mrs. Burks were always on hand to guide us through our student careers.

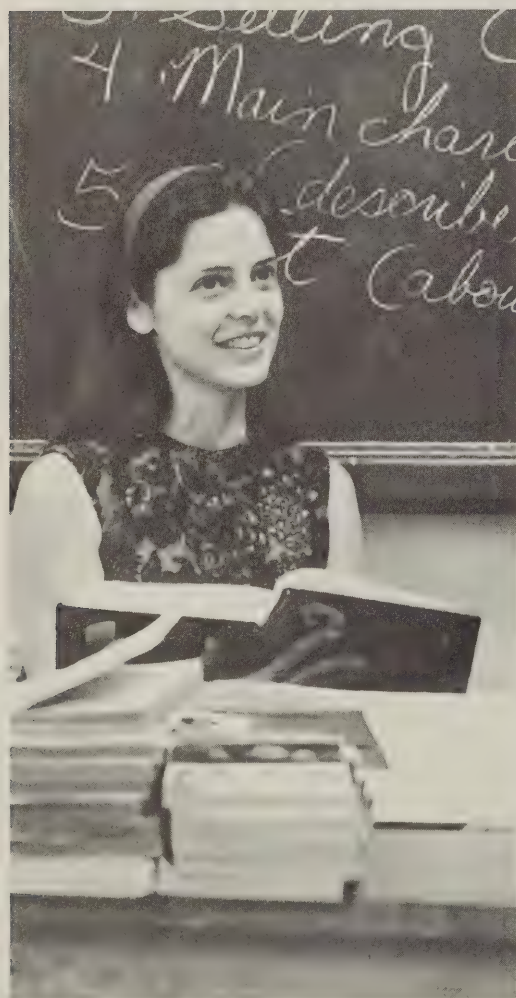

Mrs. Burks' specialty was guiding the underclassmen and elementary students at Parry McCluer. Her experience was in constant demand.

Mrs. Doreen Bontemps personifies perceptive understanding, depth, warmth — challenging students to the zenith she herself has long since conquered.

Mrs. Mary Stinnett teaches English with a twist of refreshing enthusiasm.

Mrs. Margaret S. Davidson inspired the eighth grade to new heights in the United Fund Drive.

A valuable asset to the English department was Mrs. Betty Teague.

Language Studies Promote Understanding

Mr. Walter Moore tried to give his students an understanding of German customs and language.

"Peace through understanding" was the prevailing theme for the language department at Parry McCluer. The goal was to bridge the communication gap between people and nations. A stronger appreciation of the cultures around us will enable us to open our minds to international happenings.

Mrs. Mary Hill, a familiar substitute at P.M.H.S., was always welcome for her patience and friendship.

Mr. Frederick Hollen challenges his students with the multitude of accent marks, irregular verbs, and conjugations in French.

Mrs. Mildred Davis put her talents to work as head of the Mathematics department.

Mrs. Denise Hawkins tells her 1st Period class all about vectors.

Deep concentration, but too serious, filled the air in algebra class.

A Better Life Through Scientific Progress

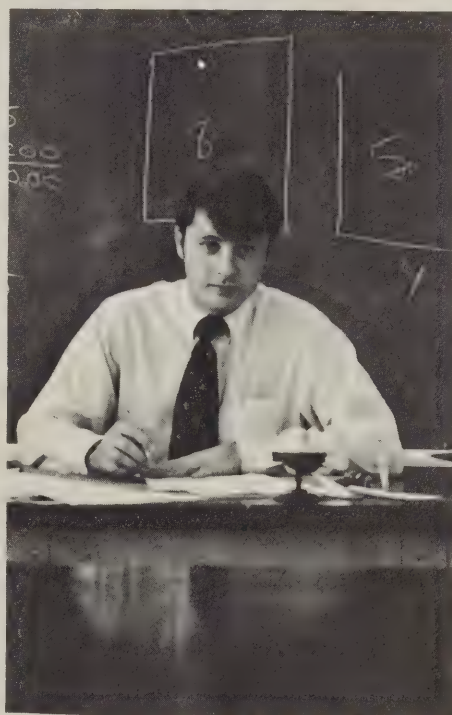

The biology students learned, in the beginning thou art an egg.

Chirp, chirp, chirp... These were music to the ears of the biology students at Parry McCluer. The sounds came from the chickens that the students had raised with the help of Mrs. Turner and the Rocco chicken hatcheries.

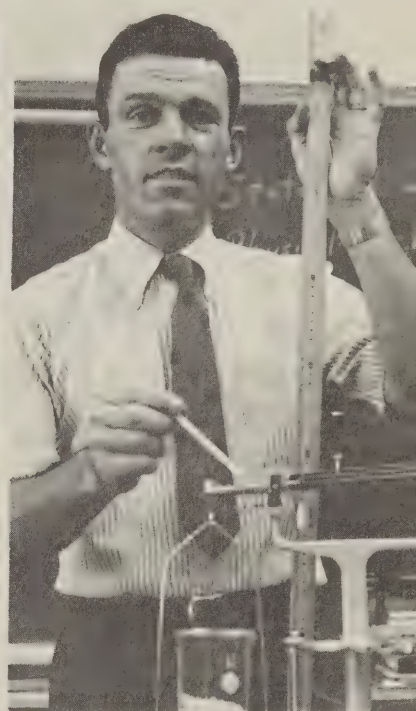

The high pitched chirps mirrored the enthusiasm of the math and science departments. Together they exposed students to the living, thriving world of technology.

Mrs. Suzette Turner initiated the chicken experiment. Buena Vista is fortunate to have a local source of outstanding teachers in the Washington and Lee law wives.

Mr. Daniel Camden set the pace in his classes for the cybernetic age.

Mr. James Smals demonstrates a scientific experiment.

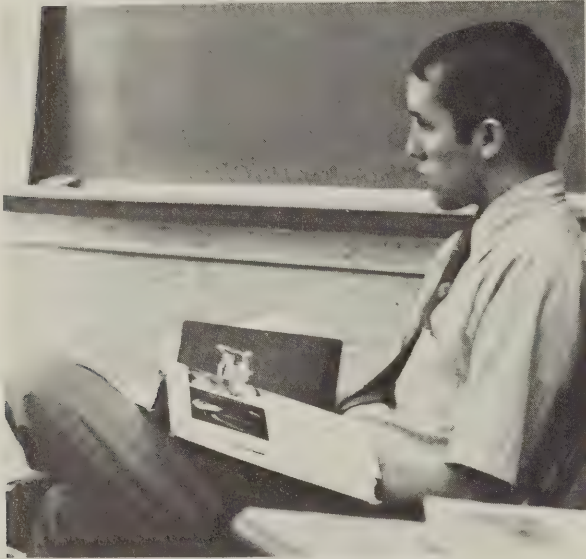

Photographer, coach, teacher — a regular “Jack-of-all-trades” — Mr. Edwards was an unsung hero at P.M.H.S.

A prize winning “football shirt” was worn by Mrs. Turner on blue and white day.

Learning About Our World . . . Past And Present

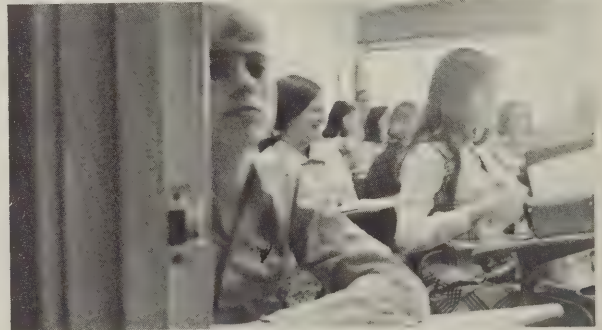

Mr. Larry Irvine had a wide variety of students this year ranging from freshmen to seniors.

Mr. W. D. Ward tried to give the seniors an understanding of the way our government works.

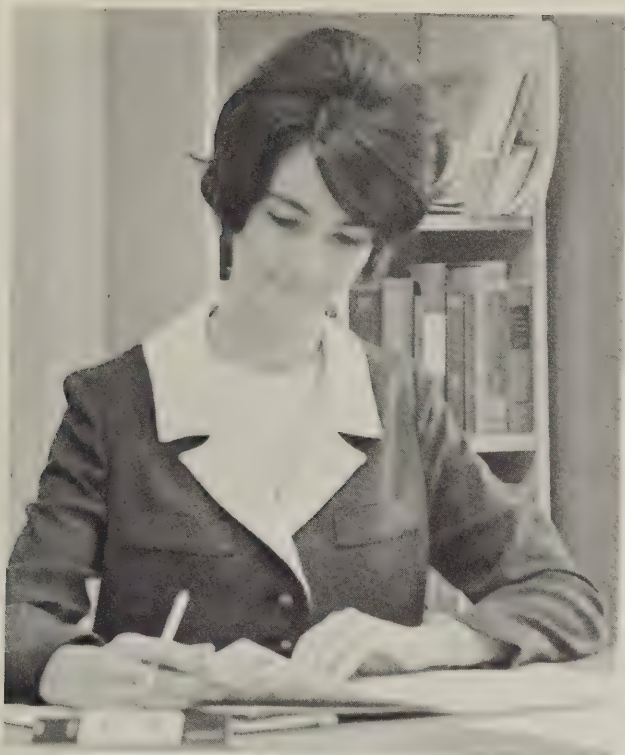

Mrs. Betty Hawes directed the policy projects of the social studies department.

Mr. Irvine's class takes a break.

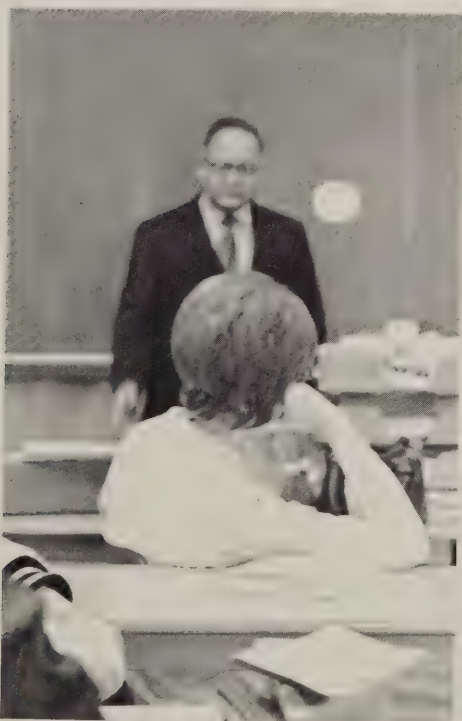

The Home Economics department was enlarged and an additional teacher was added, Mrs. Carolyn Miles. She often demonstrated the practical skills of homemaking.

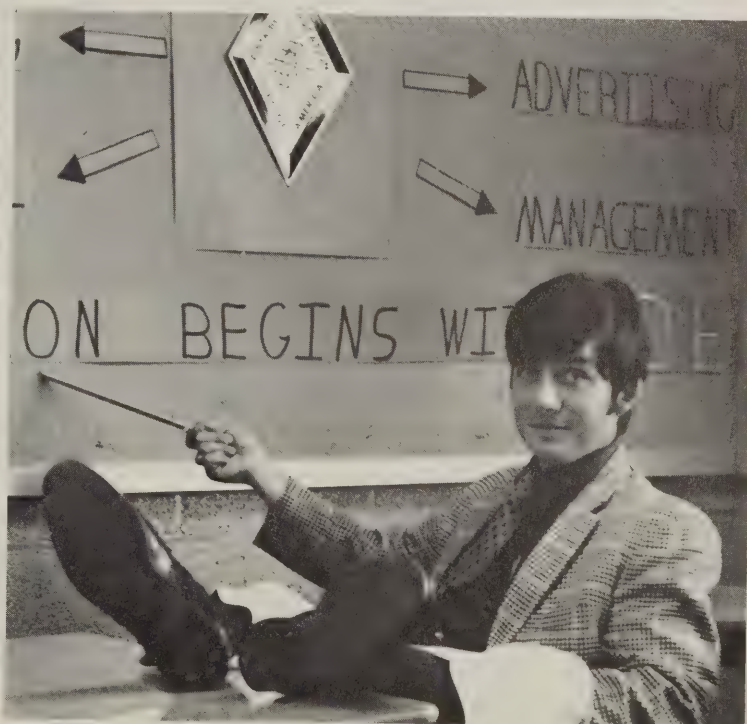

The finer points of Home Economics were taught by Miss Geraldene Carper. Her subject area covered a broad range of domestic skills.

Distributive Education was an essential part of the curriculum.

Mr. Love points out that "action" is a part of Distributive Education.

Technical Skills Help To Meet The

Mr. William T. Fuller introduced many new ideas to his art pupils.

The arts and industrial crafts rounded out the educational experience of the students. They tried to develop a sense of color and design in the art classes. They became very skillful in the use of industrial machinery. All these endeavors helped them to meet the challenge of the world awaiting them.

Mr. Landon S. Temple took our small town band and turned it into a memory to behold.

The Music Department at P.M.H.S. has expanded over the years. It now has a concert band and a marching band. It also has a chorus program at Enderley Heights School.

Challenge

Mr. Albert McCown was a master of many skills. His experience, knowledge, and hold was invaluable in shop class.

Gary Coleman learned that practice made perfect.

A new technique was tried by Dave Morris under the watchful eye of Mr. McCown.

Mr. Ward Locket expressed his knowledge in many different ways.

Pushers Of Physical Exertion!

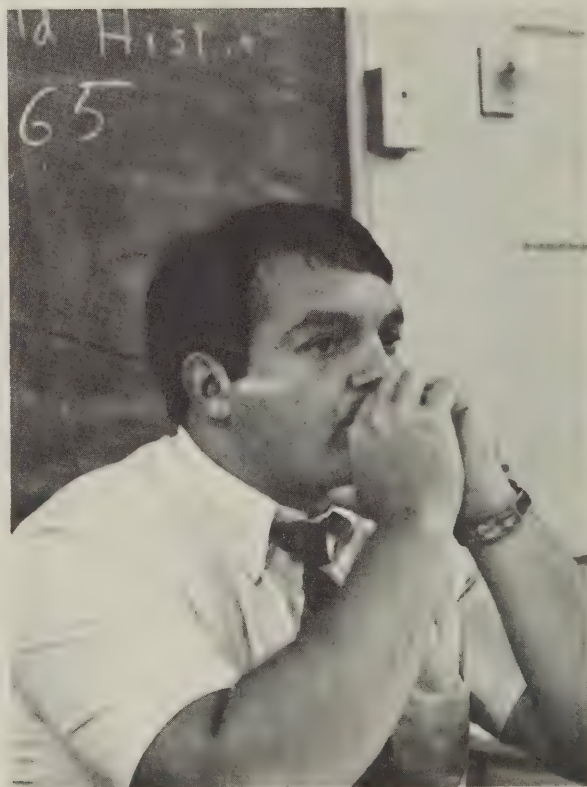

Coach Otis Timberlake managed the boys physical education department.

So, . . . this is what you write about in class!!!

Boys experience the output of a physical education class.

Coach Larry Carter assisted in girls' gym classes.

Mrs. Mary C. Wright keeps her girls "fit" in physical education class.

The talents of Coach John Whitesell, varsity basketball leader, are employed in the classroom and the gymnasium.

The biggest attraction at Parry McCluer this year is the new gym floor, a big incentive to run.

The Business Department Provides An Excellent Basis For Students.

Mr. Everett Cash shared his many skills in typing with his students.

Many manual skills were practiced and practiced and practiced in the business typing classes. But that's not all that is needed for the competitive business world. A fine technical knowledge of facts and figures was also incorporated in all the courses.

Mrs. Elsie Floyd headed up the business education department.

Mr. Cash keeps his typing classes busy.

Miss Bessie Meador, librarian, was a big help to students seeking extra help in the library.

Mrs. Nancy Weigand, study hall proctor.

Mrs. Doris Higgenbotham, study hall proctor, also assisted in the office.

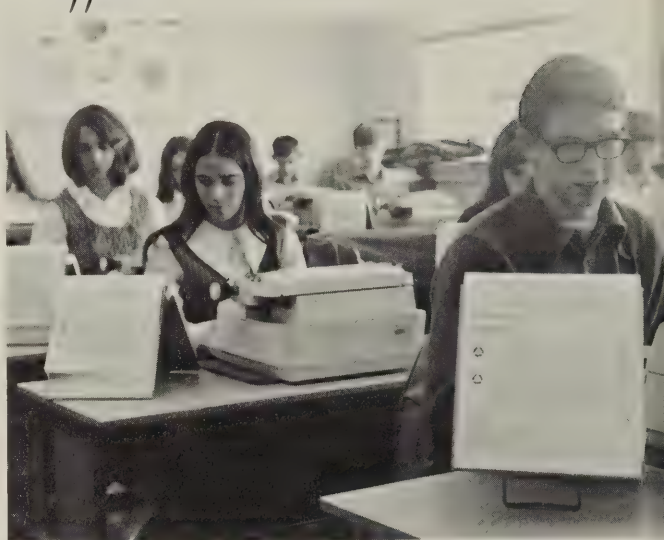

Mrs. Lois Long, valuable library assistant.

The Library and study halls provided a welcome oasis for the study weary students at Parry McCluer. There they could pick up the pieces and seek extra help. Through the help of books on related topics and their own efforts they enhanced their classroom learning.

The Secretarial Aids Are Valuable To The Office.

Mrs. Judy Watts served as the High School secretary until the last of September, 1970.

Students practice to obtain the skills as that of their teachers.

The Secretarial Aids are an indispensable part of the high school office. They are willing to help any time they are called upon.

Mrs. Gay Huffman replaced Mrs. Watts as High School secretary.

Mrs. Judy Cash acts as Guidance Secretary in the Guidance Office.

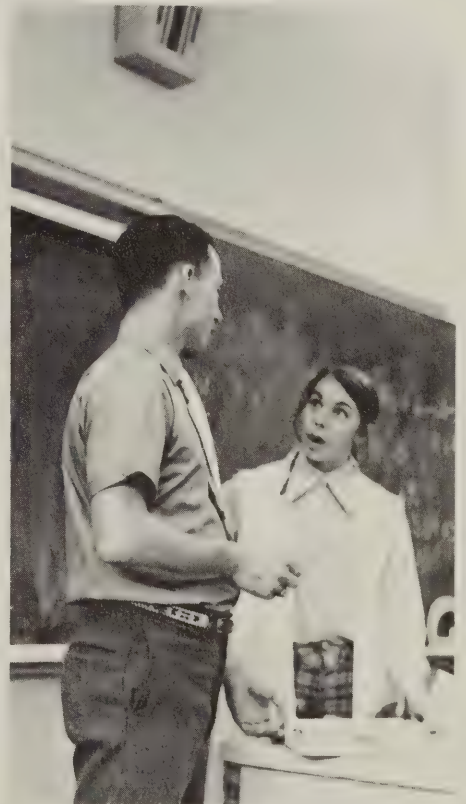

Teachers Have Many Moods.

Several members of the faculty are very attentive during an assembly.

The Lunchroom Staff prepares delicious meals for the students.

Wouldn't you just love to buy a patron?

Homecoming

The band displays precision.

Homecoming of 1970 turned out to be a big success. The activities started out with a parade including floats and cars from various clubs, the band, cheerleaders, and the Homecoming Court, and ended with a dance given by the cheerleaders. The Mighty Blues beat the game over Nelson County with a score of 29-6. The halftime was kicked off with a performance from the band and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. All in all it was an exciting night WITHOUT RAIN!!!!

"Oh, I'm so happy!" wails Bev.

The Fighting Blues of Parry McCluer High School had a very successful Football season this year. They finished with the title of co-champions of our district. The 1970 season was marked by greater enthusiasm and increased team play. The season was a prophecy for bigger and better things to come for the Parry McCluer Athletic program.

Blue Defense racks up opponents.

Our Senior men were mighty.
